

What is Continuous Delivery?

"If Agile was the opening act to a great performance, Continuous Delivery is the headliner." Forrester Research

LAB DATES
2 SESSIONS:
29 April & 5 June
Pool Innovation
Centre

OVERVIEW OF TOPIC

Software Development and Continuous Delivery Lab

For Cornish businesses in the software development or front-end development sector - this exciting new Lab series will introduce you, and like-minded developers, to innovative methodologies for developing and managing your software projects. Our expert facilitators will support you to utilise new techniques, tools and processes for better delivery and impact of your software projects. Dave Farley is a thought-leader in the field of Continuous Delivery, DevOps and Software Development. Co-author of an award-winning book on the subject of Continuous Delivery, a well-known conference speaker and blogger. With over 10 years in industry as a consultant, project manager, trainer and author, Belinda Waldock has considerable experience in the integration of Agile project management techniques across a broad spectrum of business sectors.

WHAT WILL BE COVERED?

Along with your peers you will:

- Gain a deeper understanding of agile teams and continuous delivery
- Reflect on your agility and ability to continuously deliver working software as a team
- Meet and learn with others who are using agile and Continuous Delivery in their teams
- Gain a clear understanding of the principles and foundations of Continuous Delivery
- Learn and explore techniques and tactics for improving CD in your team and organisation
- Learn and explore technical strategies and tactics to enable your team to deliver continuously

Session 1 is a half day workshop with Belinda and session 2 is a full-day led by Dave Farley (supported by Belinda)

OUTCOMES

Continuous Delivery is the state-of-the-art in software development process, the next step in Agile for Software development. Working with Belinda over a half-day, you will cement your understanding of Agile and prepare for a full day session with Dave on Continuous Delivery. You will come away inspired with new ideas for future-proofing your business. Plus with support from your Business Development Manager you'll have access to a range of resources, including some potential follow on coaching.

Register your interest here or call 01209 617714.